Contribution Levels

The revenue from ticket sales does not cover the costs of producing the Bard Music Festival. You can help by making a gift in one of the categories listed below. With your support, we will continue to explore the life and work of the world’s leading composers and enjoy outstanding music every summer.

Friend: $100 – $499  Friends receive a contributor’s price on individual tickets for the Bard Music Festival, and their names listed in the program. (Donation is fully tax deductible.)

Sponsor: $500–$999  Sponsors receive the preceding benefits, a copy of the festival book, and the opportunity to buy tickets before sales open to the public. ($20 of donation is not tax deductible.)

Patron: $1,000–$2,499  Patrons receive all of the preceding benefits, plus exclusive use of a special telephone line to purchase and reserve tickets, priority seating, an invitation to the Festival Board of Directors dinner on opening night and an invitation to a dinner at a Hudson River home during the festival. Patrons are also invited to select musical events throughout the year. ($130 of donation is not tax deductible.)

Associate: $2,500–$4,999  Associates receive all the preceding benefits, plus an invitation to dinner with the co-artistic directors of the festival. ($150 of donation is not tax deductible.)

Benefactor: $5,000 and above  Benefactors receive all the preceding benefits, plus a pair of tickets to an orchestra concert during the third weekend of the Bard Music Festival, October, 2005, in the Sosnoff Theater at the Fisher Center, and invitations to special festival events scheduled throughout the year. Benefactors will also receive the opportunity to underwrite events. ($210 of donation is not tax deductible.)

You can include a contribution with your ticket order by calling the Box Office at 845-758-7900. All contributions are greatly appreciated. Please indicate your choice of contributor category or additional contribution amount in the space provided on the order form. Thank you.
